

The innovative mixer taps from BLANCOThe future of kitchen mixer taps is smart

The sink and mixer tap experts at Blanco have always striven to do good things even better, and this approach acts as a driving force for creating new innovations. With its attractive new smart mixer taps, Blanco is now setting trends in the smart home sector, while highlighting its innovative prowess. The sensor-operated Solenta-S Senso mixer tap marked the beginning last year, and is now followed by two other stand-out smart designs.

Measuring cups, waiting for the kettle to boil and streaks of limescale in your tea are now a thing of the past. The new smart mixer taps are intelligent and convenient products that respond to specific requirements within the kitchen. They combine fantastic benefits with timeless design, thus fitting straight in to today's open layout concepts. In addition, the 3-in-1 mixer taps offer precious worktop space, as their multifunctional features render lots of devices and utensils redundant. They also encourage users to go easier on tap water, a precious resource. The Blanco Evol-S is ideal for keen chefs and baking enthusiasts, as it features an integrated measuring cup function. This can be adjusted precisely using the rotary knob – highly practical when preparing food or filling household appliances if you need a specific amount of water.

Water drinkers and tea and coffee lovers will appreciate the new smart filter faucets. They are connected to a multi-level filtering system that

Presseinformation

Press Release
Information Presse
Información de Prensa

Seite 2

purifies the tap water in the base cabinet and appreciably improves the taste.

The new Blanco Tampera Hot smart mixer tap offers boiling water in an instant. This allows you to blanch vegetables quickly or get water for cooking pasta without having to wait around. Last but not least, the award-winning Solenta-S Senso has an integrated motion sensor for touch-free running water, thus completing the smart mixer tap quartet to perfection.

What's more, Blanco offers its own installation service for smart mixer taps. Mixer taps are installed as part of the overall kitchen assembly. This means a higher level of security and reliability for dealers. Kitchen buyers also receive an induction into the functions, operation and maintenance of the mixer taps.

Image caption:

Measuring cups, waiting for the kettle to boil and streaks of limescale in your tea are a thing of the past! The new smart mixer taps from Blanco are intelligent and convenient products that respond to specific requirements within the kitchen. They combine fantastic benefits with timeless design, thus blending straight in to today's open layout concepts.

Photo: Blanco

www.blanco.com